"My people perish for lack of knowledge"

Rhema University is very active in providing education to third world countries where Christian formal education is scarce and expensive. We provide free tuition and in some cases also free textbooks to Pastors and Ministerial Leaders to make the knowledge and wisdom of God available to them, which will in turn assist them in being more effective leaders to their churches and communities. Subsequently, they will train others in the knowledge they have acquired through their studies. Our goal for this year is to be established in 25 countries by December 2006.
